

Some info about Sandbacka Park

Today

Sandbacka Park is a technology park based in Sandviken, Sweden. Sandbacka Park provides a concept for developing and supporting the local and regional economy, especially within the technology and ICT sector.

Sandbacka Park acts as a development hub, where companies of the entire region can find collaboration opportunities, interesting products, services and more. At the same time, Sandbacka Park offers a chance for all companies of the region to rent suitable group and conference rooms, complete with whatever services the customer may require.

At the present moment, there are 49 companies, employing 900 staff and 70 students in university and post-secondary programmes, at the technology park. The Sandbacka Park property encompasses a total of some 22,000 m² (approx 237,000 sq ft).

Our vision

Sandbacka Park is a dynamic, expansive hub. Here, future world class products and services, in our niche areas, are developed. You will find a creative environment with a mix of large and small companies and organisations focused on research and development as well as educational programmes.

Services and activities

- Sandbacka Park offers business development programmes, tailored for both newly started and well established companies. Executed in a network with other business and company executives.
- FindIT is a powerful initiative how aims to develop a competence centre for Industrial IT.
- CoderDojo Sandviken is one of many global networks of free computer programming clubs for young people how is based in Sandbacka Park.
- The Steel industry's research school has a handful of material technology researcher's at Sandbacka Park. Also logistics and supply chain management is represented all to increase contact between the industry itself and the research designed to accelerate innovation and development.
- During the demonstration period a visitor center for Electric Road E16 at Sandbacka Park.
- Pilot (feasibility) study of materials - Smart Materials for Smart Specialisation
- Part of a report- in the so-called Mobility-as-a-service project, on mobility and CO₂ neutrality
- Sandbacka Park conference centre is managed by Sekreterar Jouren and provides excellent facilities for meetings, training programmes and seminars.
- Racine's at Sandbacka Park, offers lunches for business purposes as well as lunch to the public. Racine's Café specialises in lighter lunch menus with salad, toast and soup.
- Må Bättre - runs the training and keep-fit centre at Sandbacka Park.

For more information, please consult our website – www.sandbackapark.com.

Welcome!

